

eBusiness Solutions for Agriculture

THE FACTS

Government regulation and demands for traceability in the Ag Industry are increasing and will continue to increase in the coming years. You must be positioned to address them.

eBusiness technologies will play a crucial role for Ag companies to help manage those demands eBusiness technology improves your business efficiency in the supply chain and saves your company both time and money over manual paper-based processes.

Standard transactions, identifiers and processes across Agriculture deliver better data and make using eBusiness technologies significantly easier and less costly to implement.

AgGateway membership delivers industry developed solutions, gives you an opportunity to set the direction for the industry, and connects you with your trading partners to address these critical issues.

What our members say:

“After we joined AgGateway and connected electronically with our trading partners, we gained many internal benefits such as: the elimination of manual effort and resource cost, increased efficiency, improved inventory accuracy, and improved customer service.”

“Membership in AgGateway is a great value – for very reasonable membership dues. Our customers say that being electronically connected with them has made use easier to do business with; and it’s saved us money.”

INNOVATION - COLLABORATION - EFFICIENCY

Value of Membership in AgGateway

- Framework for getting connected electronically with customers and suppliers
- Industry collaborative projects
- Support for implementation of eBusiness technologies
- Opportunity to have a voice in setting industry standards
- Means of developing closer relationships with trading partners

AgGateway

1156 15th Street NW, Suite 420
Washington, DC 20005

Phone: 202-742-5967
Web: www.aggateway.org
E-mail: info@aggateway.org

